SUGGESTS ITALY AS A MEDIATOR.

Von Buelow's Errand also to Prevent Intervention.

Will Present King Autograph Letter from Kaiser.

Hopes to Avert Catastrophic Defeat for Germany.

BY RAPINET MACKENZIE.
(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EX-CLASSE DISPATCH.)

ROME, Dec. 17, 8:55 p.m.—On his arrival at Rome, Prince von Buelow, the former Imperial German Chancellor and now Ambassador to Italy, was informed of the bombardment of the English coast by German ships, but showed no surprise. He said this achievement had been arranged for prior to his departure from Berlin and added:

"This is simply the prelude to what the German fleet is soon to undertake, which may astonish the world."

ROME, Dec. 17.—Prince von Buelow, it is expected, will present to King Victor Emmanuel, in addition to his credentials, an autograph letter from the Kaiser explaining that the nature and object of the mission is two-fold. Primarily, the German envoy will strive to prevent Italy's intervention in the war on the side of the allies. If he is unsuccessful in this, since intervention depends upon events wholly beyond Germany's control and may be made inevitable through the violation of Italian rights, Prince von Buelow is authorized to ask the King to assume the initiative in a peace movement and to realize that Italian intervention is imminent.

Germany, it is said here, is fully aware of the impossibility of continuing the war if Italy joins the allies, since the Austrian army is already divided between Galicia and Serbia, and in the event of an attack by Italy it must necessarily concentrate on the war on the frontier between the Rhine and Serbia, which would advance simultaneously toward Vienna and the Italian fleet would initiate extensive operations in the Adriatic. Thus Austria would be sure to be defeated both on land and sea. Germany, besides being unable to aid Austria, would be left to fight alone against its foes on the western frontier and the frontiers. Economic reasons due to Italian intervention likewise would compel Germany to disintegrate the struggle.

Prince von Buelow's principal purpose in coming to Rome is believed to be to avert a catastrophic defeat for Germany by arranging for an opportunity to be given through a supposed offer of mediation by Italy. The chances of his failure are great, as Italy will not offer to mediate before being assured that the proposal will be accepted by all the belligerents. As to intervention, it may be said that this country's course, in certain circumstances, has probably decided, and that the Prince comes too late to have any influence upon that decision.

TO SHOW JAPAN IS NOT HOSTILE.

(BY PACIFIC CABLE.)

TOKIO, Dec. 17.—The American Peace Society of Japan, at its annual meeting held here today, voted to appoint a committee of fifteen Americans living in Japan to investigate and prepare a statement on the various questions bearing on the relations between Japan and the United States.

FEW SOLDIERS DIE OF WOUNDS.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

PARIS, Dec. 17.—No fewer than 84 per cent. of the French wounded returned to the firing line before December 12, according to interesting figures supplied today by the surgical department of the Ministry of War.

Of the 1,200,000 Frenchmen who had been given convalescent leaves, 17 per cent. were still in hospitals and 5 per cent. had been discharged from the army. Three and a half per cent. of the wounded died.

The statistics demonstrate the remarkable advance made in surgery and show a lower percentage of deaths from wounds than in any preceding war.

REPORTED BREACH OF NEUTRALITY IN SAN FRANCISCO INVOLVING GERMAN OFFICIAL, UPON WHICH DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE HAS BEEN WORKING, WILL PROBABLY BE PIGEON-HOLED.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EX-CLASSE DISPATCH.)

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Dec. 17.—That the State Department probably intends to ignore any charges against German Consul General Von Schick, at San Francisco, for complicity in alleged violation of the neutrality laws in the case of the steamship Olsen and Mahony was evident today. Robert Lansing, counselor for the department, declared that nothing had been done in this case, and that he had "a hazy recollection of a complaint against Von Schick, but that the matter had been laid away for future reference."

In view of this statement, unless some could be made, there would be serious developments, involving the consul-general, it is probable that Von Schick will be recalled from San Francisco by the German Embassy here. At the German Embassy officials refused to receive the Olsen and Mahony case, but acknowledged under questioning that they had heard of the matter and had a report from the San Francisco Consulate. Inquiries as to the probability of the consul-general being recalled from San Francisco by the German Embassy, paraded. The custom division of the Treasury is taking no further interest in the case, having heard nothing recently from Collector Davis.

The Department of Justice, however, has not dropped the case. The department seems to be in a quandary which is still "investigating." Asst. Atty. Gen. Charles Warren, who has charge of the case, said that "nothing definite has been done." Warren said he is getting reports from Dist. Atty. Preston on the investigation. Preston and the investigation of the allied connection of George F. Her, William Haas, Flood Brothers, and others with the cargo of the steamer. Warren said he knew nothing of any charge against Von Schick, but was concerned only with the activities of Preston.

The State Department, which is extraordinarily timid in taking up alleged violations of neutrality, where consular or diplomatic officers of foreign governments are concerned, according to Secretary Bryan, has, however, in certain circumstances, probably, will decide nothing about Von Schick's alleged activities in San Francisco for the German government.

According to plans agreed upon, the big government printing shop will use $1,000,000 worth of paper next year. Sealed bids for furnishing paper will be received January 25 and the award made February 15.

COAST IS INSECURE.
Aircraft Could Drop Bombs on New York.
Defenses Insufficient for its Protection.

FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE HAD BAD RECORD.
and Fugitive Weakens Navy to World.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

DETROIT, Dec. 17.—Five bandits ended their three hours today in the highest court in the city to meet hostile forces, according to a statement by Rear-Admiral Flisius before the Naval Committee.

Representative Gardner of Massachusetts will be the final witness before the committee tomorrow.

Hartlepool had there been an adequate flotilla of submarines stationed there when the German cruisers came in, could it?"

"Not if there had been an adequate number of them, they could have stood off the German cruisers."

"Assuming that instead of coast defense submarines with limited speed," he was asked, "England had had all about Hartlepool five or six submarines, would that have reduced the possibility of any bombardment very greatly with the German fleet knowing there were twenty-knot submarines there to keep off the cruisers?"

"I think so."

Admiral Flisius went on to say that an attempt at offense or defense the United States navy would seek to get control of the sea, far away, if the enemy's position were there; near by if the fight were to be near by.

"By getting control of the sea," he explained, "the navy would want to use all the arms possible—battleships, cruisers, armored cruisers, scout cruisers, destroyers and submarines. We would have to mine our coast, especially with anchored mines and would have to take these to the foreign ports. "The navy would want to Mexico our fleet carried four aeroplanes. An airship or aeroplane could have attacked Vera Cruz without our landing any soldiers."

Representative Gardner of Massachusetts will be the final witness before the committee tomorrow.

GERMANS CAME SUDDENLY ON BRITISH SQUADRON.

Admiral Von Spee's Vessels Sent to the Bottom of Falkland Islands Arrived Unexpectedly upon Steamer's Flotilla Which was Being Provisioned at Neighboring Porta.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)

BUENOS AIRES (Argentina) Dec. 17.—The German cruisers sent to the bottom of the Falkland Islands on December 8 apparently were taken unawares by the British, at a time when neither side was expecting an encounter. The first detailed account of the battle, which reached here today from Puerto Gallegos, Patagonia, was given by John Hanly of Chicago, who was on board the German ship.

John Hanly of Chicago was the last of the engineer witnesses. He testified as to conditions on suburban runs. He is actually in the cab of his engine ten hours, he said, but by reason of rush hours he is on duty sixteen hours and off four hours.

He leaves his bed at 3:40 o'clock in the morning every day, he said, and gets back home around 7 o'clock at night.

While he was on the stand there was a question as to whether he had five or six fast

It was the possibility of the attack that the American fleet in the Pacific had not been ready for the German's practice.

In the opinion of the engineer, the German's state of affairs were as bad as ours.

AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD

Spirit and Matter.

Prof. H. Laverne Twining will deliver a free lecture on "The Relation and Analogy Between Spirit and Matter," at Astrological Hall, No. 591 Gross building, at 8 o'clock, Sunday evening.

Luncheon at California Club.

Sir Johnston Forbes-Robertson was the guest of honor yesterday at a luncheon at the California Club, given by Dr. Walter Lindsay. The other guests were J. Bond Francisco, Dr. Norman Bridge, W. E. Dunn and Dr. John R. Hayes.

To Last Rest.

Funeral services on the remains of George H. Burkhardt will be conducted this afternoon under the auspices of Los Angeles Lodge No. 99, H.P.O. Elks, at the Booth-Boyleon parlor, No. 1147 South Flower street. Interment will be at Odd Fellows cemetery.

Why Did She Do It?

Roger Payne, one of the organizers of the Socialist party, has challenged Frances Noel to a debate on why she left the Socialists to support Hiram Johnson. The debate will occur Sunday night at 8 o'clock at the Los Angeles High School, and a lively affair is promised by both sides.

Bands Take Money and Papers.

Worshipper, a Chinaman of No. 1115 South San Pedro street, is missing his citizenship papers. He was held up early yesterday by three masked bandits. He also lost $25, but doesn't mind so much as the papers. The police believe the three men are the same who engaged Patrolman Gillespie in a revolver duel a few days previous.

For Clean-up Day.

Ministers of the city were asked yesterday by the City Beautifying Committee to make at one address before "Fall Clean-up Day," the 21st inst., on the subject of making Los Angeles the city beautiful. Women's clubs, service clubs, associations, improvement organizations and others were also asked to aid in the work. Mexican Consul Injured.

While crossing the street through a confusion of vehicular traffic, Adolfo Carrillo, Mexican Consul, sustained painful injuries yesterday afternoon. He was hit by a bicycle ridden by a boy and knocked to the pavement. At the Receiving Hospital an X-ray test showed a possible fracture of a "high bone" and Senor Carrillo was removed to his home, No. 857 Maillard street. Auto Breaks Man's Foot.

J. L. Lee, a telegrapher residing at No. 812 West Fourth street, sustained a fractured right foot and severe abrasions of the left foot yesterday afternoon when he was hit by an automobile driven by Phillips Smalley of No. 1559 Sierra Bonita street. The automobile was driven by A. Schaefer, chauffeur. The accident occurred at Sixth and Flower streets.

No Parcel Post Mailing Sunday.

The postoffice will not be open on Sunday for the mailing of parcel post packages. The law provides that postoffices should be closed on Sunday, and the exception is made for this day period.

Packages addressed to points as far east as Chicago should be mailed not later than Saturday, in order to insure delivery by Christmas. Parcels which are worth sending at all should be insured, because they are certain to receive more careful handling.

His Money All There.

Gold and silver coins and currency amounting to $10,425 spilled on the pavement yesterday when Angel Bonacochi, an aged newspaper seller, was struck by an automobile at Sixth and Olive streets. When he was hit he was lifted into a police ambulance he was handed his money. At the Receiving Hospital he counted it and announced that it was all there. He was hit by an automobile driven by C. Ridgway of No. 750 East Ninth street. He sustained minor bruises and abrasions on the face and legs.

Still Mystery.

The police detectives are still mystified over the shooting of Edward Rosant, an Italian cobber of No. 219 Main Ninth street, while working at a bench in a window. One reason given for the shooting is a dispute over the collection of insurance money obtained when a fire occurred in the place several months ago. Joe Marziali, a grocer, next door, was accused of the shooting and the police are seeking Tom Aloti, wanted as a witness. The victim's condition is reported improving, Temple B'nai B'rith.

The Sabbath service this evening at 8 o'clock will be commemorative of the feast of the Macabees. Dr. Hecht will speak on "Turn on the Light" and the musical service will include the selections "Kindle the Taper," "The People That Walked in Darkness" and the traditional song of the festival of light. Tomorrow morning at 10:30 Dr. Hecht will read the service and speak expositarily on the current Scripture lesson. At 9:45 tomorrow morning he will conduct the children's Sabbath service and address the juvenile congregation on the lessons of Hanukkah.

Reactive Killed in War.

Arthur Moore, ballif in Judge Wellington's United States District Court, received word yesterday that his cousin, Mrs. Mary Merryweather, who conducted a draper establishment in Scarborough, Eng., had been killed by a shot from the German cruisers that attacked Hartlepool, Hartlepool and Hartlepool, on the English coast, early Wednesday morning. Mr. Moore was born in Hartlepool, but has been in this country about forty years, for nearly thirty a resident of Los Angeles.

Tax Stamp Data.

Register Roche of the local Land Bank has received official information that the recording bonds certifying the description, assignment of descent, land entries, powers of attorney to make mining locations or to sell or rent the same, or for patent to such mining claims, or to select lands in connection with land applications, must pay the stamp tax required under the present law, from 10 to 50 cents. Ordinary powers of attorney in contest cases, or to represent and protect a client's interest in claims pending before the land department, do not require stamp.

For Christmas Tree.

About fifty women of the Million Club will be busy in book stores and hotel lobbies tomorrow, selling "Why Live," a little volume designed for a holiday gift. The proceeds are to go to aid the big Christmas tree the club will give Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week for poor children. The book is the work of Mrs. B. A. Davis, vice-president of the organization. The club has received word from the California Associated Raisin Company that it will send 1000 boxes of raisins from Fresno for the poor children who will be gladdened by the Christmas tree.

One of the first Christmas tree entertainments of the season was given last evening by Moose Lodge, No. 1115 Third street. Dancing followed the tree extension. The successful entertainment was arranged by the women's Social League of the lodge, of which Mrs. Grace Murray is president. Box lunches with prizes were sold. At the conclusion of the evening the Christmas tree and its equipment of tinsel and ornaments was sold. The proceeds of the evening will be used to give holiday cheer to needy members of the lodge.

To Diocesan Social Work.

The First District California Congress of Mothers will have charge of the programme at Trinity Auditorium next Wednesday, during the session of the Southern California Teachers' Association. TOPS EARTH IN GOOD ROADS.

California Sets New World Record for Money Spent on Highways.

California established a world's record last month by spending $1,000,000 on good roads.

"Not even New York with a $50,000,000 bond issue for road-building, has ever expended as much money in any one month," said N. D. Darlington of the State Highway Commission yesterday.

According to the records of the commission, there were 127 contracts "running" during the month, 1,000 miles of road were under construction, and more than 5,000 men were employed.

Where the valley trunk line crosses Tejon Pass, five concerns were at work on adjoining segments of road. Work was also being pushed at many places on the Coast Highway. Both trunk lines will be ready for 1915 use, according to Mr. Darlington.

TASKS ON EFFICIENCY.

Burks Appears at Meeting of W. C.T.U. Federation—Features of Interest at All-Day Session.

Director J. Burks of the efficiency bureau appeared before the W.C.T.U. Federation at Trinity Auditorium Wednesday. His talk was along the general lines of efficiency, which he advocated.

Miss Katherine Elspeth Oliver gave a reading from her book "The Claw," which deals with the wine industry in the San Joaquin Valley, and liquor conditions. M. E. Jenkins read a paper on "The Anti-Saloon Movement."

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. L. Law and lasted all day. There was a discussion in the morning of the preparations for the "dry" campaign in 1916.

DIVORCE SUITS FILED.

"The only object of the league is to secure a divorce," said President Burks. "The growth of Socialism is the cause of the anti-saloon movement, and he believes the anti-saloon is an organized movement that not only will check the sale of alcohol but will eventually end it."

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.
(At Home.) Influenced by the expected demand for wheat, because of the great war, farmers have planted the largest acreage on record. Exporters were immense buyers, taking more than 5,000,000 bushels and sending prices nearly 2 cents higher. Reflecting the easy monetary conditions, Berlin exchange was again reduced, while London's bills of credit were increased.

(Abroad:) France has decided to again extend the moratorium until after the new year.

(For details see financial pages.)

WASTED EFFORT.

A man who is being sued for divorce says that he put several feminine articles in his pocket to fool his wife. The average man would not find any such folly necessary to bring himself under suspicion, and we are not sure that removing all traces of guilt might not be in much better taste.

MOST REMARKABLE.

Somebody has discovered that there is a growing hostility to Christians in Turkey. That is very strange, in view of the willingness of all the Christian nations in Europe to let Turkey take part in the most beautiful war civilization ever conducted under the sign of the cross. It shows what savages the Turks are not to want to be nobly killed.

SHILD A CHANCE.

If the Mexicans will hurry they may still have the luck to kill or wound several Americans at Naco before Gen. Hugh Scott can reach that point from Washington to beg them to desist. On the other hand, Americans will surely feel deeply grateful to the authorities at Washington for the solicitude which prompted such an action. Any government that would take the trouble to send one of its biggest men across the continent to ask another government to stop killing its people deserves the utmost appreciation of its citizens. We feel sure that Mexico also will be lost in admiration for this conduct.

ENTIRELY UNNECESSARY.

It is with pain that we read in teletograph dispatches that President Wilson was followed on his Christmas shopping expedition Wednesday by a large number of plain-clothes detectives. From what little we read of Mr. Wilson while he was teaching school and from his conduct since he has held public office we have faith in his personal integrity. If not in his wisdom in government, and we cannot feel that the stores he visited were in any danger from him. If we were conducting a toy store we should trust the President implicitly while he was selecting goods and we would not think of having him watched by even our store detective.

JAW-BREAKING NAMES.

The Belgians are not to be the only recipient of American charity. The Russians in the city of New York are arranging for a raid on the purses of the charitable. They do not waste time and effort taking up collections in churches. They go after contributions from wicked people who attend theaters and balls.

There was given in New York last week a new ballet called "Puppen-Fee," composed by Tschalkowsky, with scenery designed by Mstislav Doboujinsky. The artists consisted of Mlle. Piskovietzka, Mlle. Svirskaya, Gismondi and the great Russian dancer, Anna Pavlova.

Anybody able to read the foregoing paragraph alone without dislocating his or her jaw will be entitled to a year's subscription to the New York Journal of Commerce at the regular rates.

WILD CAT SERVIA.

Little scrappy Servia not only seems to have nine lives, but, like a wild cat with teeth, claws and bristling fur, she can turn savagely, when cornered, on her powerful assailant. Her tempestuous career since the start of the first Balkan war has not apparently weakened her fighting powers or crippled her resources.

For a small pocket handkerchief practically, tucked away in an obscure corner of next-to-nowhere land, she is filling considerable space as a maker of world history. Certainly she must be the red-headed child of Dame Europa.

Being homogeneous and compact may be one reason why she has so successfully resisted the huge "ramshackle" empire of Austria. One resolute family filled with the love of scrapping can often set a whole neighborhood by the ears. Some people may object to these small stirrers-up of trouble, but whether in individuals or nations, they are forces not to be disregarded. Either as allies or opponents they are apt to prove dangerous.

With an area only equal to that of New Hampshire and Massachusetts and a population no greater than that of California this semi-civilized Slav state is driving out of its borders the finely-equipped armies of Austria-Hungary. This after two exhaustive campaigns, first with Turkey and then with Bulgaria. Probably if Servia could be conquered and annexed by one of her larger neighbors the task of holding her down would hardly pay for the expenditure of energy required. States like Servia seldom "remain put." The chief regret is that the surplus energy of Servia was not used up in wiping Turkey entirely off the map of Europe. In this bigger war it is likely to be wasted.

OUR DUTY AND OUR RIGHT. It will require skilful piloting to steer this nation through the troubled waters which the European war and the Mexican situation have caused to swirl around us. Germany would rejoice at anything that would embroil us with Great Britain or France or Russia or Japan. Either of the latter powers would find material for congratulation if we were forced to assume a hostile attitude toward Germany, and Mexico, or any of the factions of Mexico, would make the welkin ring with hurrahs if we were precipitated into a war with any power.

We have no interests that would be served by a war with any power. Strict neutrality toward every European power and strict non-intervention in Mexico should be our guiding and controlling maxims. Peace at any price except dishonor is our true policy.

But, although forbearing, we do not need to be fearful. God has swung his deep salt seas along our Atlantic and Pacific and Gulf coasts, and between our northern frontier and Canada sweep the lakes whose unsalted waters are and, under the treaty of 1817 with Great Britain, must remain unvexed by a hostile keel.

Benjamin Franklin was by common consent accorded the position of being the greatest and wisest diplomat of his age, and his utterances, made one hundred and thirty-one years ago, may be studied with advantage by the statesmen of today.

Franklin did not believe in the practicality of a general disarmament, because a standing army seemed necessary to support an absolute government, of which there were many in Europe. "If one power singly were to reduce its standing army," he said, "it would be instantly overrun by other nations." He based his hope of a cessation of war upon biological reasons only, for wars diminished not only the population, but even the breed and size of the human species. "For," said he, "the army in this and every other country is in fact the flower of the nation—all the most vigorous, stout and well-made men in a kingdom are to be found in the army. These men in general never marry."

In speaking of the decline and fall of the Roman Empire, a recent German writer, Dr. Otto Seestock, professor of history at the University of Rostock, states, after a careful and painstaking examination of all available statistics, that the fall of the empire was due to the fact that out of every hundred thousand strong men, eighty thousand were slain in battle, and that out of every hundred thousand weaklings, ninety to ninety-five thousand were left to survive, and to use Franklin's expression, to continue the human species. His conclusion, therefore, is that the German conquered the Roman not because Rome was weakened by luxury and self-indulgence, which affected but a small percentage of the population, but because the barbarian was physically fit. Rome, depicted by war, was unequal to the contest.

Dr. Franklin did not think that the United States should organize or keep a large standing army. "For," said he, "America is not, like any European power, surrounded by others, every one of which keeps an immense standing army; therefore, she is not liable to attacks from her neighbors—at least, if attacked, she is on an equal footing with the aggressor, and if attacked by any distant power she will always have time to form an army."

There could not be a war between any European power and the United States without the enemy being the aggressor. Suppose such a power should send an army of any size to our shores and could provide ships to transport them and dreadnaughts to convoy the ships. Suppose the hostile fleet should, as is not likely, escape the submarines and destroyers with which our ports would be guarded. We could, by means of our network of railroads, place at any landing point in a few weeks an army three, four or five times as large as any hostile force, and the inevitable result would be that the invaders would be captured or exterminated before they could advance far into the interior.

It is not of idle boast, but a plain statement of a palpable fact, to say that we are invulnerable, and every power in Europe knows it. In that invulnerability rests our safety. Nothing but desperation would cause any European power to force a quarrel upon us, and we say in no boastful, but in a temperate and peace-seeking spirit to all of them—

We charge you, in the name of God, take heed. How you awake our sleeping sword of war.

We will aid to feed—not the armies—but the starving noncombatants of Europe. At present our benevolent ministrations are extended to the helpless Belgians. But we would not refuse succor to a German, an Austrian, a Frenchman, a Russian or an Englishman. We pray God that pity and wisdom will move the combatants to a world peace. But we will not meddle in their quarrels, and they must not attempt to drive us from the neutrality which it is our duty and our right to preserve.

NOW IS THE TIME.

Mr. Herbert N. Casson, at present studying economical conditions in London, has just contributed a short article to "Associated Advertising" that deserves the attention of all American business men. He reaches the conclusion that if we are alert and confident the major part of the world's trade can be had by America for the trouble of getting out and going after it. Not just for the asking, of course, but through an energetic campaign of advertising.

As has already been pointed out, however the war ends, animosities will remain in Europe for an indefinite period. Germany will not buy goods made in England if it can help it, nor will Great Britain purchase articles from Germany while any other market is open. The trade routes of the world will be readjusted, and "Made in the United States" will be the most popular brand in all the countries of Europe. Unless we allow the opportunity to slip.

America ought to be already expanding commercially, preparing for the near revival of business on a colossal scale. Mr. Casson would show Europe, as he is today, to thousands of wide-awake Americans and in his own words bid them "Go back and advertise. Get ready for the biggest business boom that any nation ever had. Build your factories bigger. Train more salesmen. Borrow more money. Don't be blind to the most glorious chance you ever had in your life."

Only a foolish timidity can prevent America, under present world conditions, from filling a destiny more exalted than that of any empire or nation since the dawn of history. We are already conquering every country by a campaign of kindness, consideration for all and prejudice against none. We have but to follow this up with a business campaign, to advertise our products to demonstrate what we can do, and we can win the trade of all those nations who have already given us their friendship.

Relationship works out the same in the village, the city or between two continents. Popularity is the key to success.

Now is the accepted time. We have become the friend of all. Let us become chief caterer to the needs of all.

TAXING POWER OF CONGRESS.

Under the later decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States there is hardly any limit to the taxing power of Congress. Under that section of the Constitution which confers upon Congress the power to conserve the general welfare it is said that "whatever seems essential to take care of the citizen to encourage and nourish the spirit of patriotism or in any way to defend those fundamental principles of society which seem essential to a republican form of government may be sustained and protected by taxation."

In the case of the United States against the Gettysburg Electric Railway Company, reported in 160 U. S., the question at issue was the constitutionality of an act of Congress making an appropriation and providing for a method and means of marking the vintage of all home products and infant industries, neither of which the Democrats will protect, it still seems necessary to import a great deal of Vienna music for American consumption. Southern California is becoming especially independent of the world at large for almost everything it needs, and we would be very glad to find that the California brand of music excelled the vintage of all other countries. We should rejoice to find scales on something besides land sharks, and to hear notes that made a sound other than "Ninety days from now I promise to pay." We would welcome a music which had the brightness of our California roses, the spirit of our orange blossom perfume, the trill of our mocking birds and the sigh of our fragrant and gay winds. We have a suspicion that in the Glad, sweet by-and-by the richness of the California nature may burst into the flower and the joy of the perfect melody. We suspect that the maturity of California and Californians will be a song that only the angels may rightly echo; but we also suspect that the music of a people is a natural outcome of their evolution in every other particular and cannot be forced or coaxed.

"Congress has power to declare war and to create and equip armies and navies. It has the great power of taxation to be exercised for the common defense and general welfare. Having such powers, it has such other and implied ones as are necessary and appropriate for the purpose of carrying the powers expressly given into effect. Any act of Congress which plainly and directly tends to enhance the respect and love of the citizen for the institutions of his country and to quicken and strengthen his motives to defend them, and which is germane to and intimately connected with and appropriate to the exercise of some one or all of the powers granted by Congress, must be valid. This proposed use comes within such description."

"Such a use seems necessarily not only a public use, but one so closely connected with the welfare of the republic itself as to be within the powers granted Congress by the Constitution for the purpose of protecting and preserving the whole country."

"By this use the government manifests for the benefit of all its citizens the value put upon the services and exertions of the citizen-soldiers of that period. Their successful effort to preserve the integrity and solidarity of the great republic of modern times is forcibly impressed upon everyone who looks over the field. The value of the sacrifices then freely made is rendered plainer and more durable by the fact that the government of the United States, through its representatives in Congress assembled, appreciates and endeavors to perpetuate it by this most suitable recognition. Such action on the part of Congress touches the heart and comes home to the imagination of every citizen, and greatly tends to enhance his love and respect for those institutions for which these heroic sacrifices were made."

LAYING OUT A CITY.

BY EUGENE BROWN.

For some time past I have been trying to find the man who laid out Los Angeles. Where is he? Show me him. It was perfectly natural in following this inquiry that I should bring in the Recorder's office. There I had some illuminating conversation with the dean of the clerical force. He is a patient, methodical person, whose conception of a literary gent is a man who could write an index to Webster's Dictionary.

"Kindly tell me who laid out our otherwise beautiful and bustling city," I began, in a tone that was meant to be ingratiating.

"Laid out Los Angeles?" he exclaimed with a snort. "Why, Great Scott! Los Angeles is so far from being dead! Four thousand men couldn't lay it out—and they've all tried. Look at this book," he added, "and make your own calculation."

He referred me to a bulky volume of some 950 pages, several sizes larger than a city directory. It was margined in index form and there was an average of about twenty-five written lines to the page. Each line bore the name and brief description of some subdivision or tract and gave reference to which one of the more than 15,000 pages of maps and miscellaneous records held the enlarged plat of the same.

Of course this covers the entire county, but fully 60 per cent of the total number of tracts mapped and described are within the present boundaries of the big city. No wonder that the town seems like a maze, a crazy quilt, when four or five thousand different persons with variant ideas of how a subdivision should look are suffered to express those ideas in enduring earth and stone. A town fearfully and wonderfully made is bound to be the result. Small wonder that streets run carelessly out for a stretch and then suddenly curl up and lie down, only to break out in a fresh place a mile or so ahead.

I am sorry to say that some of our city builders seem to have used Boston as a model for their efforts. I used to think that Boston was planned by pinched persons who had neither much room nor reason. The streets are so crooked that often when I would start out in the morning for a walk I would meet myself coming back in the early afternoon. Some of the business streets are so narrow that you couldn't drive a cow through except endwise. The animal had to go through when she got started. She couldn't turn around and when she swung her tail the shop-keepers put up their shutters. Pedestrians had to hold their spit till they got to Boston Common to avoid flooding the street.

Well, the streets of Los Angeles are not so narrow, but they are not as wide as they might be and they are dreadfully uncertain where they will bring up. My idea of a job is to make a map of Los Angeles. Whenever I want to keep my offspring out of mischief for a few days I give him a pencil, a ruler and a pair of calipers and start him drawing an outline of our fair city. Then I can go to the ball game with a clear conscience. Recently there was a law suit in which a lady who had prepared a modern map of Los Angeles sought to enjoin other parties from using the same. I don't blame her. If I had drawn a reasonably accurate map of our beloved but bewildering city, I should want it patented and kept in a fire and burglar-proof vault.

I have talked with several members of the Realty Board and, while they offer corner lots in most of the four thousand or more subdivisions of our fair city, they cannot give me a line on the system which evolved them. The names of the tracts are also both strange and interesting. In many of them the owner has immortalized his family title, but others are meant to be descriptive or alluring. Some names back them seem to have run out of names and started in on numbers. At that, they have already passed the 2500 mark. Of the names they range from the plebeian Wolfskill Orchard to the sonorous Hyperion Heights. There is the rugged Aphasla of Chinatown and the stately Wilshire boulevard and West Adams Heights subdivisions. There seems to be a profligacy of heights, including Arlington, Angelino, Boyle and Pico. Nature who was here first, created the heights and man who has since claimed them for real estate or advertising purposes. A mountainous site that you could not raise off in Vernon is worth 'steen thousand dollars an acre in lovely Los Angeles. It is the scenic splendor and the vista that counts.

Whenever the doctor warns me that I need violent exercise, I unload a couple of bun尼nicks on the street car company and take a spin on the merry-go-round—which is the title I derivatively apply to the Angelino and Crown Hill line. This seems to be a cross between the see-saw and flying Dutchman of our boyhood days. The cars are to climb trees, turn somersaults, circle over a bunch of hills and hollows, double back on themselves and finally curl up and die at the point of starting. It doesn't stick to one street for much more than a block, and the car turns corners so abruptly that half the time you are in your neighbor's lap and the rest she is in yours. If she happens to be an attractive, young grass widow, it makes the exercise all the more frolicsome and exhilarating. In the course of its wandering career, this line traverses twenty-eight different streets, and no two of them at the same grade. The cars have to be a combination of elevator, steam and battleship. To get a line on some of the ups and downs of our delirious and delightful municipality a whirl on the merry-go-round is better than two birds in the bush.

Incidentally, you will acquire a hint concerning the wealth of material some of our city founders had to operate with.

"I WONDER." I wonder sometimes what the world would be like with a man like a lovin' me:

Lovin' me true and wonderfully strong—Why nothing would ever me go wrong.

The sun would shine and the flowers bloom And for love only in my heart there'd be room.

I wonder sometimes when I think of you If my heart to me is really true?

If the meaning of life you lead each day, Would it be the same if I were away?

Would the moon, the earth and flowers still smile Or would you forget in a little while?

To Fight Socialism.

the socialistic tendency of the times has been brought about by education, publicity and general propaganda. The only way to meet that force and to beat it is to meet it with organized opposition. It is the purpose of our league to publish literature, to handle discussions and to disseminate the doctrine that socialism is a menace.

"If the theory of the Socialist is right that he will use the ballot as a weapon to take a man's property from him, is there any one so silly as to believe that any man or woman should not, so aid along with him? The resistance means war—and that is what we are coming to if socialism shall prevail. I do not want my boys to grow up into anything of the sort."

The league has opened offices in the Chamber of Commerce building and will at once build up an organized opposition to socialism. George D. Ball is treasurer of the league and William A. Barragar secretary. These, with President Barragar, constitute the temporary officers.

The purpose of the league, together with an anti-socialist address, will be told by President Barragar Sunday afternoon in his Blanchard Hall speech.

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

CHRISTMAS dolls by the hundred were much in evidence at a delightful "doll party" held in the dormitory of the Cummock Academy Wednesday afternoon. The academy faculty were hostesses to the students of the Cummock Academy in the annual party, to which the girls bring dolls which they have dressed, and which are subsequently sent to gladden the hearts of many poor children of the city at Christmas time. The dolls are distributed to the homes of the poor by the visiting nurses.

Headed by Miss Martha C. Weaver, the academy faculty members provided an interesting scheme of entertainment, with a decidedly "Christmasy" air, the basis of the color scheme being red and the refreshments being served so far as possible in the shape of Christmas bells—the bon-bons, cake and ice cream all appearing in that form. Many of the dolls which were brought by the students were dressed in the typical costumes of various nations, and the care and attention with which they had been dressed called forth exclamations of admiration again and again. Each girl was given a Christmas present as a souvenir.

Bridge. One of the holiday functions will be the Christmas dinner dance of the San Gabriel County Club next Saturday evening. All the tables have already been spoken for and it is expected that every member will attend. The clubhouse will be beautiful with Christmas and holiday decorations.

Dinner. Mrs. Joseph A. Brown, Miss Margaret Brown and Miss Willa E. Brown, girls of charming appearance, had luncheon for their guest, Miss Bebbie Sargent Smith of Cleveland, O., at "The Huntley" last Tuesday. The decorations were in keeping with the Christmas time. Poinsettias, holly, red and goldberals and greens were used, and for the centerpiece, Indian Christmas trees with lighted candles warmly greeted the guests. Coverings were laid for forty.

Dinner Party. Mr. and Mrs. Kitchin of Long Beach will give a dinner at the Virginian tonight, for the benefit of the Red Cross hall in honor of Mrs. Kitchin's sister, Miss Dorothy Lindsey. The other guests will be Miss Constance Byrne, Miss Winifred Maxon, Clara Woolwine, Dudley Dexter and Frank Simpson, Jr.

For Children's Hospital. The Matrons and Patrons Club of 1911, Order of Eastern Star, will give a benefit informal ball and card party at the Rutherford School for Dancing tonight for the benefit of the Children's Hospital. Mrs. Delia Gilman is in charge of the affair, assisted by all the members of the club.

The Rapparees Entertain. The lately organized dramatic club, "The Rapparees," will entertain December 29 with a reception at the San Gabriel Country Club. The hostesses will be Mrs. Phelps Reed, Mrs. F. O. Wood, Mrs. Jack Bell, Mrs. M. Orr and Mrs. Ross Hickox.

Visiting. Miss Imogene Riner of St. Louis, one of the famous Riner Sisters on the Redpath Lyceum and Chautauquay systems, is the guest of Mrs. Judi-may air, the basis of the color scheme being red and the refreshments being served so far as possible in the shape of Christmas bells—the bon-bons, cake and ice cream all appearing in that form. Many of the dolls which were brought by the students were dressed in the typical costumes of various nations, and the care and attention with which they had been dressed called forth exclamations of admiration again and again. Entertaining with true California hospitality, La Esperanza Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, will amuse their friends with an informal Christmas party at their regular meeting on Sunday evening, the 24th, at the Native Sons Hall. A fine programme is being arranged by the younger girls, while the banquet is left to arrangement by the older members. After the programme the evening will be devoted to dancing.

The Christmas Party. An annual affair of the parlor, will be held before the adjournment of the lodge for the exclusive benefit of the members.

The dancing party given on the 11th inst., for the benefit of the Children's Hospital, was a decided success, and, despite the rainy weather, many turned out to dance in the winter evening.

Much of the success was due to the clever management and untiring efforts of Miss Hazel Metz, Misses Dot and Betty Neffoney, Mrs. Mary P. Due and Mrs. Hill.

Bridge Party. Assisted by Mrs. U. T. Clotfelter, Mrs. William H. Millbaugh, Mrs. John Maurer, Mrs. Alice Jackins and Mrs. H. J. Price, Mrs. F. & Wise will entertain four days after Christmas with a bridge party of fifty tables at the Bryson apartments. Doses of poinsettias will carry out the holiday colors of red and green in an effective scheme in both the drawing and living-rooms.

Informal Dance. The Delta Chi Fraternity of the U.S.C. law school entertained its members and the alumni chapter with an informal dance at the Los Angeles Club last Wednesday evening. This was the local social gathering of the fraternity for 1914, and all enjoyed a pleasant evening. Among the alumni members present were Judge Thomas P. White and Judge Sidney N. Reeve.

Seas Lashed by Gale.

The total last year was but 2.83 inches at this date.

SWIFT DESTRUCTION.

The wind chose an opportune time for destructive work shortly before 8 a.m. when one of the highest tides of the season was about at its crest. Huge waves, driven by the wind, beat high lashed the shore and buildings near high tide line. Pounding the west beach bulkhead, it reduced to broken stone and twisted iron several hundred feet of the new walk and wall. The elements piled tons of water against Pike building, wrecking one structure and destroying scores of others. The huge waves changed the appearance of the bluff on the eastern side of Long Beach. East of Bixby Park cottages built Breakers beating against Long Beach Auditorium.

Former Senator Banning's ruined house, Balboa Beach.

while the fine grounds of the beach home of F. O. Enstrom at Newport were practically ruined by washing sand. During the height of the storm a gas main in Balboa Beach was severed and the town left without gas for light or fuel.

Although the storm was accompanied by a gale from the south and the highest tide in nearly twenty years, there was no damage to shipping at the harbor.

Giovanni Castagnoli, an Italian fisherman, lost his life in making the trip down the coast in the fishing boat "San Joaquin" owned by Nino He. He was washed overboard in the storm. The engine died off Point Vicente and the men on board cast an anchor until the storm died down. Yesterday morning a passing launch brought news from Redondo Beach brought news of the disabled launch and the Banning tug Listo was sent out and towed the launch to port.

The steamer Harvard, from San Francisco, was an hour late in arriving, having had to buck the gale coming down the coast. The Santa Clara, San Joaquin, was also blown ashore. Small boats had been sent to the rescue, but the Harvard had to wait for a favorable wind to get out.

At dawn yesterday the heavy sea was dashed over the breakwaters in the outer harbor in great white combers that sent the foam and spray shooting high into the air. The tide at 4:50 a.m. reached 7.5 feet, and with the storm behind it backed up the water in the channel and the bay to a hitherto unknown height.

About 250 feet of the Salt Lake dock at Ocean was washed out by the high tide and train service was demoralized for several hours. Repairs were completed last night and service resumed.

BATTLE SEAS TO SAVE PROPERTY.

(LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.) SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 17.—With huge waves breaking over them, fifteen men this morning fought a wild battle to save the lumber, machinery and other equipment of the Marcos Bridge and Construction Company from being swept into the ocean, when the highest tide of the year, accompanied by a heavy swell, dashed upon the small work on the West boulevard, and for a time threatened to engulf everything.

Between 8:30 and 9 o'clock this morning the scene was thrilling. The lumbermen, robed in thick coats, fought desperately while they saved the company's property. Loosely lumber was dragged from the grip of the sea and a huge pile driver and engine were brought to the head of the pier, after the sea had lifted the heavy mass of machinery high in the air and played sea-saw with it.

The battle was witnessed by over 1200 persons.

During the night, though high winds prevailed, no damage is reported from any quarter.

Gleason May be Released to New York.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
CHICAGO, Dec. 17.—Clarence Rowland, last year manager of the Peoria Three I League club, today signed as manager of the Chicago Americans for a term of one year.

Rowland succeeds Jimmy Callahan, who was manager of the White Sox for the last three seasons. Callahan, it was announced, will be retained by the club in connection with its business department. Rowland's experience in baseball has been confined to the minor leagues, but he has built up a reputation as a discoverer and developer of young ball players. Among those he has carried over on his staff are Eddie Collins, Lars Doyle, captain of the Glazier. The new manager is 32 years old. He began playing ball in Dubuque, where, as catcher and outfielder, he served as manager and part owner of the Three I League club.

Rowland's selection, came as a surprise to Chicago fans, many of whom expected Eddie Collins would be appointed to the place.

The signing of Rowland, it was reported here this afternoon, might result in Kid Gleason obtaining his release from his contract with the management of the New York Americans. Gleason has acted as coach and adviser to Callahan for some years.

The report of the Rating Committee is said to mark an epoch in American lawn tennis.

Ader will report as to the tests to which the official ball adopted for tournaments should be subjected. A. L. Hoskins, Philadelphia, will report on the adoption of official colors and a seal for the association. D. L. BASKETBALL GAMES OF PREPS TODAY.

LINCOLN AND HOLLYWOOD TO PUT UP FIERCE GAME; L. A. WEAKENED.

Manual and Los Angeles High, Hollywood and Lincoln Gardens and Poly were in the second round of basketball games in the City League today.

Hollywood and Lincoln will put up a whirlwind game. Coach Bryan's Millmen made the Mechanics look like suckers last Wednesday, while Lincoln defeated L. A. High.

Manual should win from L. A. High if Wissman is still out of the game. The Tollers have team work down to perfection, while the loss of Wissman seems to have demoralized the Cliff-dwellers.

Gardens and Poly play. Both were given severe drubbings Thursday. To whom these men will tell which is the weaker.

WEST SIDE CLUB PLANS BID FOR THE NEXT ASSOCIATION MEET.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Dec. 17.—The West Side Tennis Club of this city plans to make a bid for the national tennis championships next year, if it became known today when it was announced that the board of governors of the club had voted to offer the club courts at Forest Hills, Long Island, to the United States National Lawn Tennis Association for the big event.

It was stated today that the supporters of Newport, where the first championship was held, and where it has been continued for thirty-five years, would take a decided stand if the players by offering a proposition for a ten-year term at the Newport courts when the delegates meet at the Waldorf-Astoria for the annual meeting in February.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
PALO ALTO, Dec. 17.—The Rugby championship of Northern California went to Woodland High School yesterday by a score of 5 to 0 against Palo Alto High. It was the third game the two teams have played to decide which was the winner. In the first game two weeks ago, the score stood 1 to 1. A week later Woodland played a scoreless tie. Today Woodland showed distinct superiority. Stanford Field was wet and slippery.

HITT AND GREGG SLATED FOR IMPERIAL EXILE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

MEXICO, Dec. 17.—While Hitt is playing Hap Hogan and George Stovall, one against the other, in the great winter comedy of "Click Through, Mister, or the Federal Will Get Me," there are promotions that his berth with the Imperial Valley League is not at all secure. And that goes for lanky Guy Gregg, the second twirler of the staff, too.

Two of the Honolulu tourists—Jim Scott of the White Sox and Claude Williams, the Sacramento southpaw—have accepted offers of jobs until the end of the season, in February. That Capt. Bayless and Director Aitken will remain and nothing more.

OVER FIFTY WOMEN SAW LAST CALIFORNIA SCRAP.

OVER fifty women saw the last professional fight staged at Jack Doyle's training camp. The crowd was not as large as was expected, owing to the bad weather, but the boys got a good send-off, and will have enough money to get them into places where professional boxing is allowed.

The twenty fighters who appeared last night received 5 per cent of the amount taken in. The fights were fast and snappy, with the exception of the Ross-Dalton go. These boys gave an exhibition of boxing and stalled the biggest part of the time. Battling Chico and Danny Lyons tried the same stunt, but Jack had Rosses boys ready to quiet rattling stop. After that the boys got it and it proved to be one of the best fights of the evening.

The fight between Johnny Arroyo and Jimmy Lastra was the hit of the evening. Johnny Arroyo had his own fight out to his box in his last professional bout. His style is a booster for Johnny. Here is a little encouragement she gave Johnny from the ringside: "Bear him one, Johnny. That's the old boy. Knock the plaster off him, Johnny."

The bouts in order:

Steve Sigmak drew with Red Dwyer.

Fighting Lee knocked out Charles Wood in the fourth round.

Mike Dell won a hard fight from Charlie Abbott.

Johnny Arroyo and Jimmy Lastra fought a four-round draw.

Al Greenwood was a four-round decision over Jack Lawrence.

Harry Wilson and Earl Mohan put on a comedy four-round go, which was decided in favor of the latter.

Jack Clark won a four-round decision over Kid Carter.

Benny Palmer drew with Jack Gillis.

Battling Chico fought a draw with Donny Lee.

Earl Puryear and Walter Williams fought a draw.

The following acted as referees for the different bouts: Harry Burns, George Blaik, Bob Laga, Pleasant Smith, Jack Conway.

Harry Burns gave an exhibition of fancy bag punching.

JAPANESE TAKING UP ALL AMERICAN SPORTS.

Colony Interested in Wrestling, Baseball, Tennis, Jiu-Jitsu, Hockey and Cards—Hold National Wrestling Tournament Without Americans Knowing It—Karuta, Unique Card Game, Excites Japanese.

BY WILLIAM M. HENRY.

LOS ANGELES has a bunch of athletes of whom few know, but who are making big strides in all branches of sport.

In this local Japanese colony there are men interested in practically every branch of outdoor and indoor sport, and many of the men are becoming extremely efficient at the American games they are picking up. Wrestling, of the Japanese style, is the favorite sport in the local colony.

UNKNOWN TOURNEY.

All unknown, they pulled off a tournament three months ago at which men from all portions of the United States and several from Mexico and Canada took part.

On January 2, they are to stage another, though this will not be so large, and they expect to have at least fifty husky athletes in competition.

Among the local wrestlers, Wakayama and Tatsunasho are most proficient. These, while big alongside of the average Japanese, are not light, their 200 pounds of muscle and midriff midriff alongside the wrestlers of Tokyo and Osaka, who tip the beam at 300 pounds and over.

BASKETBALL.

There are several basketball clubs formed entirely of Japanese, which are making an enviable reputation in the city for their fast passing and good pitching, though they are a little light with the stick.

Recently they have taken up baseball, and Mr. Ushita is forming a club at Griffith Park.

Jit-Jitsu, which to the Japanese is what boxing is to Americans, is practiced very much in the local colony, Kasai and Nintoku being the best of the local experts.

Tennis is another very popular sport among the Japanese, and every Sunday at Exposition and Sunset parks and on the Mount Washington courts, to mention a few, racquet-wielders are to seen in action.

TENNIS.

Mr. Uchida is president of the Japanese Tennis League, with Mr. Tominaga as secretary and Mr. Mayeda as treasurer. There are five star Japanese players. Ushita, who is the singles champion, and with Karasawa holds the doubles championship, Shibusawa, Tominaga and Inouchi.

They are expert in the use of the racket and are very quick but have a tendency to hold the back court game at the expense of their net work. Their doubles play is especially strong.

Some of the athletes are proficient in several lines. Tominaga, one of the tennis stars, being a very fine boxer, and Nintoku, the jiu-jitsu expert, being a very fine fencer, of which there are a large number.

The Japanese are also very strong for fishing of one kind and another, being especially expert at surf and wharf fishing.

KARUTA.

One of the most exciting Japanese games is a card game called Karuta, which is played with 100 cards. Annual tournaments are held in this game by Mr. Nakamura, a wealthy land owner, who tips the beam at 300 pounds and over.

Two Wonderful Christmas Pictures.

AT THE STAGE DOOR

Harry Gibbons, the very clever and popular young comedian of the Gaslight company, has accepted a position with the Keystone, to be featured in special film comedies.

Billie Marie Kiernan, a young old, blonde, and very winsome actress, is appearing this week in "The Run-Away Baby," a Mutual Romance play.

Bill has lots of difficult things to do, and David Griffith says she shows unusual ability as an actress. She is being carefully trained for a stage career.

Miss Hilda Honniss and Hamilton Deane of "The Whip" company, recently playing at the Majestic, and who have a week's leave before returning to New York, are to entertain the members of the Chamber Club in scenes from the Shawian comedies "Arms and the Man" and "Major Barbara," at the home of Mrs. Lillian Goldsmith, tomorrow afternoon.

Miss Honniss studied Shawian comedies at the University of Illinois, and has been pleasing members of the Friday Morning Club with her artistic work.

The delightfully whimsical, fairy-tale play, "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," based on the Grimm's White, from Grimm's fairy story, is to be played by the Players' Club of Manual Arts High School, this afternoon and tonight, at the Manual Arts auditorium. The play is the same which was put on at the Little Theatre, New York, and which enjoyed so long a run.

Great credit is due Mrs. Isabella Gray, instructor, for the way in which she has staged and directed the play. A dress rehearsal was held yesterday and the students went through their parts admirably.

Several of the youngsters show decided talent. The stage business is well worked up.

The staging of the different scenes was excellent, with convincing forests and simple-looking mountain scenes and a witch-like dragon and goblins calculated to frighten a wicked human being into fits. Colour curtains decorated with peacock add dignity to the throne room, and the costumes, though simple, are dainty and effective.

A fact of most interesting note is that both costumes and scenery were made by the girls in the school. The orchestra does some excellent work in its incidental music.

Princess Snow White is most pleasingly portrayed by Inez Lowe.

To be honest, would that all the shows one has seen were as pleasing as these youngsters in "Snow White!"

Rollin Sturgeon of the Vingraph, staging "The Chalice of Courage," filmed from Cyrus Townsend Brady's story, has just returned from Dear Valley.

Mr. Sturgeon states he had to wait five weeks for snow, and after his pictures were finished, he was snow-bound for many days, finally being compelled to come out by way of the desert, frost-bitten and weary.

Irvin Cummings, late of the Tannhauser company, is at the Alexandria for a few days, en route to Santa Barbara, where he is to film some pictures.

Miss Nancy Bryant, of the Koll and Dill company, at the Marconi, is remembered for her wonderful emotional work in "The Traffic."

Miss Bryant states she likes the heavy dramatic roles very much, but that they are a tremendous drain on her physical strength.

"They even have a permanent effect on one's spirits if too long continued," she said. "Still I hope to get back to that work some time."

These critics appointed to pass on the real red-headedness of the girls applying for admission to the Orpheum matinee on Monday, need not be worried. Just how red does a head have to be, anyhow, in order to be considered red? They have troubles enough, they say, without running the risk of having some temperamental person who is color blind, regarding her as having a head full of candy with fish-hooks in it at Christmas time!

So here are the plans and specifications, which are simple enough: The Orpheum invites all naturally red-headed girls (drug store and wig stores are asked to help) to attend from the coming Monday matinee, in honor of the first appearance there of "The Redheads," the big and vividly-colored musical comedy, which is to be the Christmas attraction.

Mrs. Leslie Carter, queen of the ham-tops, is to occupy a box.

Catherine Courtney, wife of Col. E. D. Price, advance manager of "The Poor Little Rich Girl," which is to follow "The Shepherd of the Hills" at the Mason, was formerly a vaudeville star. She is now appearing in pictures in New York, but means to join her husband here at Christmas time.

Bill Johnstone Forbes-Robertson was a very great friend of the late Mark Twain.

"I would say Mark Twain was your greatest American author," said the actor the other day.

Manager Oliver Morosco is putting the finishing touches on the arrangements for his play-reading department, which becomes active and effective on the first of the year.

The place where the offices are located will be a Sherlock Holmes. Too many heart-breaking scenes occur where authors are allowed to leave and call for their own manuscripts. Manager Morosco is very careful of the lives of his employees, and will not let the risk of having arsenic put in the glue-pot of manuscripts disengaging reader by a disappointed playwright.

Resident Manager Al Watson of the Republic Theater will be host at a milkman's matinee after the regular performances tonight, for the first time on the Coast of "Tillie's Punctured Romance," the latest comedy photo-play ever made. Marie Dressier, Mabel Normand and other local favorites appear in the film, and the girls of the Republic will be on hand to see themselves as they appear in the picture.

In spite of what the thermometer says, it still looks like summer in the Hippodrome nursery. The miniature beach still accommodates its flocks of swimmers each day, and the swings are always swinging, and the slides are always sliding.

Miss D. Perkins is the new manager of the Woodley Theater. He puts optimism in the Optimist, and now has been made manager of both houses.

In addition, he is director-general of the Southern California Motion Picture Exhibition Co., Glendale Auditorium, January 15. Aside from this, he's a busy man.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)

BRAWLEY, Dec. 17.—Hopeful of breaking Brawley's losing streak, the directors have chosen "Dolly" Stark, the Memphis shortstop, to captain the team. Working with Managing Director Sheffield, his first duties will be to direct the team to Bill Gute's place at third. Following the lead of Pitcher Pfeffer and Second Baseman Cuthaw, his fellow-teammates on the Brooklyn National League team, Gute has resigned. Stark is out of the game with a spiked foot, but expects to play Sunday. As captain he succeeds Mickey LaLonge, the Buffalo catcher.

PASADENA, Dec. 18.—Although in receipt of a letter from relatives in Tennessee advising him that without doubt he is the rightful heir to a large fortune in England, George Imman, a carpenter, residing on South Pasadena avenue, refuses to consider the news that he may be a millionaire, seriously.

Skeptical to a marked degree that by any chance of fate or fortune he could ever hope to have an estate valued at millions settled upon him, Imman is waiting further word from his southern relatives, who intend to give the matter a thorough investigation.

For some time the courts of London have been advertising for heirs to property amounting to several millions of dollars which have been claimed by people of the name of Imman. Imman's aunt in Tennessee was advised recently of the efforts to secure word of the heirs, and believing that her nephew was a rightful heir lost no time in apprising him of his position.

Imman says that his family came from England many years ago and settled in different parts of the country, but the drifting of the family to different locations had resulted in their losing track of each other. That the estate in England may belong to a branch of his family he has no doubt as property in Ireland on his mother's side of the family has already been left to him.

SIX AUTO ACCIDENTS.

Six automobile accidents, none of which resulted seriously to the occupants of the machines, occurred yesterday as a result of the wet streets.

The automobile owner suffering the most in amount of damage to his machine is L. L. Wadsworth of No. 15 Stevenson avenue, whose machine skidded at East Colorado street and Hill avenue and tore off two of the side wheels as it raced into a telephone pole in its mad career.

When he went to the scene of the mishap this McIntrye, a neighbor, said that McIntrye had preceded his armchair thief had had to dismantle the machine of every detachable accessory. The loss of the electric lights, horn and other equipment will amount to something over $100, according to the owner of the car.

TWO QUEENS.

An additional Queen for the Tournament of Roses parade has been produced, and many willing subjects will be made to sit on thrones on the occasion of the annual fete on New Year's Day.

The Pasadena High School, which is planning a most elaborate float, details of which are being guarded with jealousies, has selected Miss Helen Marie Nelson, a senior, and commissioner of publications, to represent the school as its honored ruler, and she will select twelve associates to be with her in the float, as well as a number of outriders, all of whom are yet to be chosen.

HUNTINGTON COMING.

An announcement has just been made that Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Huntington will arrive in Pasadena early in the New Year, and their arrival will be the signal for many brilliant social affairs.

On their arrival, which will not be until after the opening of the Hotel Huntington, on January 5, 1915, will large returns. Five cents a word. All classifications close December 26, 1914. Display advertising rates furnished on application.

AIIING A BITE.

A neighborhood disagreement which has a number of unusual features will be aired in the Police Court this morning when Peter Mulder, residing at No. 1948 Emerson street, will be tried for disturbing the peace of Albert McIntrye, a neighbor.

Mulder, who it is alleged, have helped themselves to oranges from the McIntrye trees, thereby incurring the displeasure of the latter. This led to a row between the men in which the Mulder children are said to have figured, and during which McIntrye alleged that his son severely in the right side. His sharp Mulder's teeth are and how ferocious a bite he took will undoubtedly be brought out during the "airing" which will be given the episode in Judge McDonald's court this morning.

Castle on the Hill Gives Hospitality to Noted Easterners and Men of Note Receive Them—Miss Macadam Introduces "Stairway Innovation Tango."

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

PASADENA, Dec. 18.—With an assemblage outnumbering any in the past, the Raymond Hotel at Pasadena formally opened last evening amid a brilliant splendor of sparkling lights, tropical plants, flowers and music. To the delightful rooms and halls of the hotel add the presence of charming women, beautifully gowned—and no more idealistic fairytale could be imagined.

The dining-room decorations were clever and unique. Hundreds of different-colored air-filled balloons hung suspended from the chandeliers, while long ropes of asparagus plumes intertwined with pink and white blossoms adorned the walls, fastened above the windows and balconies, and in long green loops. Each room is embellished with high vase of long-stemmed carnations in various colors; enchanting music filled the air to add delight to the dinner, which it is needless to say, included a menu that was the acme of delicious foods.

The entire hotel was in gala costume, "the heart of the new year and the great events to come, in which California is to hostess to the world." Flags decorated the entrance and front of the building, while every corridor and hall was beautiful with wooden arbors of native trees covered with vine ferns. Hanging from the corners of the arbors were braided cone-shaped baskets, filled with roses and ferns.

The Lanal-room, with a profusion of poinsettias in Japanese baskets, banked against the walls and centered in the room.

ing small tables, added to the delightful appearance of the hotel.

Although the reception, the dinner and the decorations were magnificent, the feature of the evening was the dancing. The floor was covered in a single color, green, tropical plants and palms making a veritable garden of the place. The beauty of the scene and the stately air of the whole affair were enlivened by the wonderful dancing of Miss MacAdam, who trod the most difficult measures like the fairytale under the guidance of her partner, Mr. Calivis. The dancing stars proved a splendid vehicle for the portrayal of her art.

GAIN TIME BY SHORTER ROUTES.

COUNCIL PRESIDENT WILL ASK IT TO INVESTIGATE.

Says Regulation of Auto Buses and Routing of Railway Cars Must be Settled Together—Thinks Cut-off Connections May be Necessary to Gain Rapid Transit.

Rerouting of street cars so as to reach terminal points by the most direct line and in the shortest possible running time is believed by President Whiffen of the City Council to be an imperative need for the securing of more rapid transit for Los Angeles car patrons. He believes, also, that regulation of the auto buses is tied up with the question of transit, and that both should be worked out together.

To this end, Mr. Whiffen has presented to the Council a resolution agreeing that it is highly essential, in the interest of rapid transit, that the question of shortening routes and running time be one of the chief lines should be thoroughly investigated.

In the resolution he states that the Board of Public Utilities is equipped with engineers and funds adequate for making such an investigation, and the resolution will provide that the board be instructed, without delay, to undertake such an investigation, "with the view of presenting such recommendations as to re-routing and changing of schedules to provide more rapid transit, even to the extent of suggesting the construction of new lines."

The Public Utilities Committee of the Council has in its hands a collection of petitions and documents pertaining to the question of regulating the auto buses, but it has not yet set a time for a public hearing on this subject. Whiffen's resolution does not include the definite recommendation that the Public Utilities Board take up the auto bus regulation in connection with the railway routing investigation, but it does declare that the two problems should be worked out together.

RAILWAY DAMAGED.

WHO IS RESPONSIBLE?

In the construction of the Arroyo de la Brea storm sewer, which is now nearing completion, considerable damage has been done to portions of the Los Angeles Railway Corporation's tracks in most instances where the tracks were laid on filled ground. Who is responsible for this damage is a question that has been laid before the Board of Public Works, and by that body referred to the City Attorney yesterday.

The City Engineer and the railway's engineer had made a thorough investigation of the damage, which in connection with Mr. Kennedy, a contractor for the storm sewer. The contractor's attitude is that he has taken all possible precautions to prevent damages and that from that point on the responsibility belongs to the railway corporation.

If the contractor is to be held responsible, this must be ascertained before the acceptance of the contract by the Board of Public Works. The outlay necessary to restore the tracks will be considerable.

FOR PUBLIC USE.

CAN'T PROHIBIT SAND DRIP.

Property owners along Pasadena Avenue are much pestered over the continuous dripping of sand and gravel on this thoroughfare by teamsters hauling from the Arroyo Seco. They have petitioned the Board of Public Works for relief from this trouble. The City Council yesterday sent to the Board his report on the situation. He states that the trouble is due to carelessness in overloading the trucks and in not properly closing the end gates, but the main source of trouble is that the materials are not properly washed off to the street, carrying with it the finer material. On account of the methods used at the sand and gravel plants it is practically impossible to haul only dry sand.

It is proposed to put up warning signs that trucks must not be over-loaded and that all gates and checks will be requested to make arrests if these instructions are not followed by the teamsters, but there is no authority by which the traffic can be diverted from Pasadena Avenue except by declaring the street to be a boulevard, which city officials do not believe advisable.

LONG BEACH AVENUE.

ESTIMATES ON OPENING.

For several years the subject of opening up Long Beach Avenue, from Washington street to Slauson Avenue, so as to give an adequate roadway on each side of the four-lane line of the Pacific Electric, has been before the City Council in various forms. It now looks as though some definite results will be secured.

The movement now on foot is to make roadways forty feet wide on each side of the right of way from Washington street to Slauson Avenue. The time is not present on this proposed improvement will expire Saturday.

The City Engineer presented to the Council yesterday his estimate on the cost of the proposed opening. He puts the figures at approximately $20,000, showing that 2200 lots would be assessed, and that total 49,120 feet as the total size of lots, of which 16,000 feet are assessed all at the same rate. Those farther from the improvement, however, will bear a lighter assessment than those adjoining it.

The City Engineer also yesterday reported to the Board of Public Works regarding the construction in different portions of Long Beach Avenue, from Washington to Slauson. In various places fences encroach on the public property as much as ten feet, while at many points the poles of the railway company are just outside the right of way of the company.

MORMON ISLAND SPUR.

FRANCHISE IS QUESTIONED.

Acting Traffic Manager Matson presented to the Harbor Commission yesterday his report with reference to the franchise purported to have been granted to the Southern Pacific Company by an ordinance of the former city of Wilmington, to construct, maintain and operate a railroad, now known as the Mormon Island spur.

The validity of the franchise is questioned by Mr. Matson. He states that prior to the establishment of harbor lines by the War Department in 1908, a navigable channel existed approximately where the Mormon Island channel has since been dredged and pieced together. When the establishment of the government harbor lines this channel, outside the harbor lines, became State tidelands, and the railroad spur crosses it. The Wilmington franchise, purporting to grant the rights for the spur track, was adopted on January 14, 1909. On May 1, 1911, the State gave to the city jurisdiction over the tidelands within the city.

Mr. Matson raises the question as to whether the city of Wilmington has the power to grant the franchise, or whether the State alone had power to make such a grant. The City Attorney will be asked for an opinion on the points raised.

TRANSIT SHED ROOFING.

SUBJECT UNDER ADVISEMENT.

If the specifications for roofing on the harbor building are changed, it will be by order of the City Council. The Harbor Commission had had no reason to change its decision on this matter.

This was the statement of President Whiffen, who, after the hearing before the Harbor Committee of the Council, of roofing material men who objected to the specifications under which bids were called for the roofing for the mammoth shed at municipal dock No. 1. They alleged that under the specifications the local manufacturers could not bid.

The main question at issue was as to whether the local product would not be as satisfactory as the asbestos roofing called for by the commission's specifications. The bid for the latter is $13,340, while the local roofing can be had for $12,000.

One of the local manufacturers made the proposition to the committee that if the harbor board would award them the contract at $12,340 the amount bid by the eastern manufacturer, they would give a guarantee of forty years, or 100 years, if the board wanted it, as it was a simple matter of arithmetic to show how they could afford to do this. He explained that the difference of $600 between their bid and that of the eastern manufacturer, at 10 per cent. interest, would amount to $12,000 in ten years, and that they could afford to repair the roof at the end of that time so that it would be good for at least another ten years, and at the end of the forty years, or 100 years they would still have the $600.

The Council committee heard extensive arguments on both sides of the question, and finally decided to take the subject under advisement. The Harbor Commission is firmly convinced that it would be better to use the asbestos roofing, and the award of the contract is held up, pending the report of the Council committee and action by the Council.

Strong plans were made for the use of the local products in all municipal work. William Henry of the Pioneer Paper Company said that of the 100 roofing concerns in the United States ninety-seven are using the wool-soften-hemp which is the best of the asbestos. He declares that the local architects have been using California-made roofing for the past thirty years, and on some of the principal buildings of the city, and that these have given good satisfaction, and demonstrated that what is good enough for the citizens should be good enough for the city.

City Hall Briefs.

The Edgar T. Wheeler Company has completed its contract for driving piling along the Arroyo Seco to protect the banks from encroachments of floods. The work was accepted by the Board of Public Works yesterday. A movement is on foot among private owners of the district to try to secure further appropriation from the City Council for extending this work.

Easements were presented to the City Council yesterday for sewer rights-of-way across Southern Pacific property at San Pedro. This is to complete the last link in the San Pedro outfall sewer.

The City Council yesterday accepted an invitation to be guests at a luncheon given by the Sixth District Agricultural Association at Exposition Park next Saturday.

Seventy-two per cent. of the frontage on Baxter street, from Echo Park avenue to Lemoine avenue, petitioned the City Council yesterday for the improvement of this street.

F. W. Whittier was awarded two street rights-of-way for a distance of one day by the Board of Public Works. One of these is for the paving of Childs avenue, from Fountain avenue to Scotland street, for $10,616.47, for which 160 days' time is allowed; the other is for the paving of Margurite street, from Avenue 23 to Avenue 26, for $10,616.47, and for which ninety days is allowed.

SMOTHERED BY HEATER.

Elderly Couple, Happy in Home Devised for Lifetime, Victims of Poor Ventilation.

After many years of life together and of planning for their own little old, and his wife, Jessie Brice, 70, old, and his wife, Jessie Rice, 70, were found dead yesterday in their newly-purchased home on Liberty street near Normandie Avenue, a bachelor, who had been left burning, causing oxygen to enter the air. All doors and windows had been closed and were not opened until too late, when neighbors came.

Mrs. Brice's body was found in a room near the burning gas heater. In another room the body of her husband, who had suffered from arteriosclerosis, lay dead. For many years Mrs. Brice, herself an invalid, cared for her suffering husband. When she became asphyxiated, he was unable to help her.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Swanson, who lived near by, discovered the bodies. Mrs. Swanson had prepared the little meal for the aged couple and called in to invite them to partake. She and Mr. Swanson opened the door when their knock was unanswered, and entering found the tragedy. Other neighbors were called in and an attempt was made to resuscitate the couple, but life was lost.

Only on Monday were the aged couple able to realize their ambition for home.

The bodies were removed to the Funeral Home of Conner, Howell, Felt, who will sign an accidental death certificate today.

THEIR MARRIAGE FAILS.

Two Young Persons Descended from Pioneer Southern California Families in Divorce Court.

Mrs. Thibia B. Hudson of Puente brought suit for divorce yesterday against William Roland Hudson. She is represented by Attorney George P. Adams. Both the young persons, who have found married life a failure, belong to pioneer families of Southern California.

Mrs. Hudson, who is 22 years old, is the son of the late J. W. Hudson, who left an estate of $500,000 to be divided among three children. The young man is related on his mother's side to William Roland, one of the original partners of the Hudson Company. The young Mrs. Hudson asks for a substantial settlement from her husband. She brings suit on the grounds of incompatibility.
